Come Home to Christmas

If worldly searching brings no lasting joy or grasping ego causes loss of friends, come home to Christmas.

If monetary loss appears long-term or health is gone and only pain remains, come home to Christmas.

If grief or sadness overwhelms your soul for no one can replace a loved one lost, come home to Christmas.

If winter in your life hides warmer times and no one seems to feel the cold you feel, come home to Christmas.

If family has disappeared from view and memories offer nothing but a void, come home to Christmas.

It is an inner place where calm awaits a comforting and ease for misery. Come home to Christmas.
